REGULATIONS.

All residents of the city, or persons having permanent employment therein, are entitled to use the Library on giving the required guaranty.

Books may be taken from the Library only when charged on a reader's card. This card must be presented when a book is returned or renewed.

Immediate notice of a change of residence or address must be given.

The registered holder of a card is in all cases responsible for books drawn by means of the card, by whomsoever presented, and for all accrued fines.

A fine of 2 cents a day will be charged for over detention; and no books will be issued until all fines incurred by the cardholder have been paid. Failure to return books is a violation of the city ordinance, and all offenders are liable to prosecution.

Books should be examined for mutilations, etc., at the time of borrowing, as the last borrower must be held responsible.

The Reference Room on the 7th floor is open during the week from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M., and on Sunday from 2 to 9 P. M. This room is for the use of students exclusively. Casual readers will use the Reading Room, which is open until 10 P. M.

Books issued at Branches may be returned at the Main Library, and books issued at the Main Library may be returned at any Branch.

The Library is in daily communication with the Health Department; and no book will be received from a household where there is a contagious disease until it has been thoroughly fumigated. No books shall be drawn by anyone in whose household there is a contagious disease under penalty of a permanent forfeiture of library privileges.

When returning books, either at the Library or through the stations, care should be taken to have the library card properly receipted. This will save annoying delays, for books cannot be issued until the card shows that all regular books have been returned.

Users of the Library will find it to their advantage to observe these regulations, for violations can not be excused on the plea of ignorance. The Library is administered solely in the interest of the public; and the object of all regulations is to protect the many from the few and to insure to all the greatest good.

If you do not see what you want, ask for it; and don't go away unsatisfied. Please do not ask questions at the receiving or issue desks. Go to the Information desk or the Assistant Librarian.

Suggestions for making the Library more useful are invited, also recommendations of desirable books.

The Library will be very glad to compile reading lists for clubs, reading circles, etc., when desired.

- Barker, J. E. Modern Germany; her political and economic problems, her foreign and domestic policy, her ambitions, and the causes of her success. 2d. enl. ed., rev. 1907. 26
- Bell, R. Trade unionism. 1907. (Social problems ser. no. 3.) 29g
- Bliss, W. D. P., and Binder, R. M. New encyclopedia of social reform. New ed. 1908. Ref. 29
- In pithiness and objectivity the work shows a distinct improvement over the first Encyclopedia of social reform prepared by Dr. Bliss several years ago. It ought to have a place in every reference library.—E. A. Ross, in the Literary Digest.
- Brooks, J. G. As others see us: a study of progress in the United States. 1903. 29d
- Here are woven into most readable and entertaining form the opinions by way of approval, of censure, or of warning, which visiting foreign critics have expressed concerning America since the beginning of national life. In the light of these objective estimates the author discusses topics and problems which bear upon present-day progress.—Bk. Rev. Digest.
- Carey, M. The olive branch; or, Faults on both sides, Federal and Democratic. 7th ed., enl. 1816. 28a
- Fuller, R. H. Government by the people; the laws and customs regulating the election system and the formation and control of political parties in the U. S. 1908. 26
- A digest of election laws with very little commentary. . . . accurate, well arranged and expressed in simple language.—A. L. A. bk. list.
- Guide social. v. 5. 1908. (Action populaire.) Ref. 29
- Judge, M. H., ed. Political socialism; a remonstrance; a col. of papers by members of the British Constitution Assoc. 1908. 29L
- Keller, A. G. Colonization; study of the founding of new societies. [1908.] 26
- From the viewpoint of the economist and sociologist the whole history of colonization is covered in this study which aims to meet the needs of college students. Emigration, colonial trade, race contact and like questions are treated in preference to historical, administrative and legal detail.—Bk. Rev. Digest.

Schouler, J. Ideals of the republic. 1908. 26

A volume whose purpose is to trace out the fundamental ideas, social and political, to which America owes her progress and prosperity, and to consider the application of those ideas to present conditions. The chapters are: The rights of human nature; Types of equality; Civil rights; Political rights; Government by consent; Written constitutions; A union of states; The discipline of liberty; Three departments of government; Parties and party spirit; Servants of the public; The strife to surpass; A new federal convention.

Scott, C. A. Social education. [c1908.] 31d

A practical account of the life of the school from the standpoint of the social forces which are at work among the pupils.

Full of original and stimulating ideas.—Independent.

Suettnerlin, L. Die deutsche Sprache der Gegenwart; ihre Laute, Wörter and Wortgruppen. 1900. 32

NATURAL SCIENCES AND USEFUL
ARTS AND TRADES.

- Bamford, Mrs. C. E. Silk culture; a hand-book for silk-growers. 1892. 63b
- Dana, J. D. System of mineralogy of J. D. Dana; [and] Descriptive mineralogy, 6th ed. by E. S. Dana; rewritten and enl. 1906. Ref. 48d
- Davies, A. E. Nationalization of railways. 1908. 62c
- Dolmage, C. G. Astronomy of to-day; a popular introduction. 1909. 45
- Fagan, J. O. Confessions of a railroad signalman. 1908. 62c
- His shrewd observations and logical deductions regarding mismanagement of railroads and incompetency of employes may well cause railroad officials disquieting moments. The book aims to stimulate reform.—Bk. Rev. Digest.
- Clear, thoughtful papers.—A. L. A. Bklist.
- Greene, E. L. Illustrations of west American oaks. 1889. Ref. 49b
- Hall, E. H., and Bergen, J. Y. Text-book of physics. 1893. 41
- Harvard College in 1886 made a very important change touching the physics in its requirements for admission. For many years candidates for the Freshman class had been examined in physics, but in text-book physics only. It was now decided to establish a requirement of laboratory work and a pamphlet was issued describing in detail the system of experiments decided upon. This work contains the text of the pamphlet, with some new experiments, and a large amount of discussion and problem work.
- Hiscox, G. D. Gas, gasoline and oil engines, including producer-gas plants. 16th ed. 1907. 40b
- International motor cyclopedia. Year book. Mar., 1908, Mar., 1909. Ref. 62c
- Italy. Ministero di Agricoltura, Industria e Commercio. La canfora italiana; ricerche analitiche comparative sulla produttività in canfore. 1908. Ref. 63b
- Job, H. K. Sport of bird-study; a book for young or active people. 1908. 50a
- Designed for beginners in bird study, and tells how to become acquainted with the birds of any ordinary country town, how to go about the sport and what the results are likely to be. The book is profusely illustrated and "besides being an accurate piece of scientific work, forms a bird-census of a region never before investigated or written up."
- Lacour, P. Manufacture of liquors, wines, and cordials, without the aid of distillation. [c1863.] 61c
- Lamey, H. T. Mémoires of Nat. H. Jones, an insurance man. [c1900] 62
- Meade, E. S. The story of gold. 1908. 63a
- Osborn, H. Economic zoology, an introductory text-book in zoology; w. special ref. to its applications in agriculture, commerce and medicine. 1903. 50
- Philippine journal of science. v. 1, no. 8; [Non-Christian tribes of northern Luzon, by D. C. Worcester.] 1906. Ref. 51

- — — U. S. Army Transport Service regulations. 1908. Ref. 60

MEDICINE.

- Fairchild, M. A. How to be well; or Common-sense medical hygiene. 1880. Md6
- Fallows, S. Health and happiness, or Religious therapeutics and right living. 1908. Md7o

RECREATIONS.

Breck, E. Way of the woods; a manual for sportsmen in Northeastern U. S. and Canada. 1908. 57c3

As a sportsman's manual [this book] would be hard to surpass in its breadth and compactness of information, without sacrificing readability altogether.—Nation.

Hochwalt, A. F. Dogcraft; a study of various breeds of dogs, their care and management in health and in disease, w. chapters on the training of gun dogs. 1908. 57c4

Rogers, W. S. A book of spectres. n.d. 57b

ART.

Baxter, S. Spanish-colonial architecture in Mexico; with photographic plates by H. G. Peabody, and plans by B. G. Goodhue. 1901. 10v. Ref. 65a

Darley, F. O. C. Compositions in outline from Judd's Margaret; engraved by K. Huber. c1856. Ref. 65e

Espouy, H. d', ed. Fragments d'architecture du moyen-age et de la Renaissance. [1897.] Ref. 65a

Frost, A. B. Drawings; with an introd. by J. C. Harris and verse by W. Irwin. [c1904.] Ref. 65e

Gelis-Didot, P., and Laffillée, H. La peinture decorative en France du XIe au XVIIe siècle. 2e éd. n.d. Ref. 65c

Gerlach, M., ed. and pub. Les plantes dans leurs applications à l'art et à l'industrie. [2e partie; Dessins de style], par A. Seder. [1887-1889.] Ref. 65c

Gradl, M. J. Decken und Wände für das moderne Haus. Neue Folge. [1906.] Ref. 65g

Hind, C. L. Augustus Saint-Gaudens. 1908. (International Studio. Special extra number. 1908.) Ref. 65b

A very fine collection of reproductions of the works of Augustus Saint Gaudens, some fifty in number, and many of them unfamiliar subjects, preceded by an appreciation of Saint Gaudens's art by C. Lewis Hind, by a chronology of his life, and a chronological list of his works.—N. Y. Times.

Mucha, A. M. Documents décoratifs; panneaux décoratifs; études des applications de fleurs, papiers peints, frises, vitraux, orfèvrerie, etc. n.d. Ref. 65c

Philip, G., pub. Philip's artistic animal studies. (With Philip, G., pub. Philip's artistic fruit studies. n.d.)

Philip, G., pub. Philip's artistic flower studies. (With Philip, G., pub. Philip's artistic fruit studies. n.d.) 65c

Philip, G., pub. Philip's artistic fruit studies, for drawing in coloured chalks. n.d. 65c

Pleyte, C. M. Indonesian art; selected specimens of ancient and modern art and handwork fr. the Dutch Indian archipelago. 1901. Ref. 65b

Preyer, D. C. The art of the Netherland galleries; a history of the Dutch school of painting; illuminated and demonstrated by critical descriptions of the great paintings in the many galleries. 1908. (Art galleries of Europe.) 65e

A complete history of Dutch art. . . such a history has not before appeared in English, nor in Dutch in the same completeness.—Dial.

Studio. Colour photography; ed. by C. Holme. 1908. (Studio. Special summer no. 1908.) Ref. 65d

A review of colour photography that is none the less interesting because it is so clear and accurate on the technical side forms the introduction, and all the rest of the book is given up to reproductions of the pictures themselves, forming a collection that would be most interesting to the lover of art in all forms of its expression as well as to the enthusiast over the possibilities of modern photography as a medium of direct art expression.—Craftsman.

Tenichev, Knyagina M. Broderies des payannes de Smolensk, exécutées sous la direction de la Princesse Marie Ténichev. n.d. Ref. 65g

- Upton, G. P. Musical memories; my recollections of celebrities of the half century, 1850-1900. 1908. 65f
- One of the most valuable contributions to American musical history ever issued, and the numerous personal sketches and anecdotes interspersed make it as interesting as a novel to music lovers.—Nation.
- Verneuil, P. L'animal dans la décoration. [Introd., 1897.] Ref. 65c

POETRY AND DRAMA.

- Barnes, M. M. Epithalamium [wedding hymn.] 1889. 67a
- Caffin, C. H. The appreciation of the drama. 1908. 66b
- Carleton, W. Drifted in. 1908. 67a
- Crain, A. H. Creation; a poem founded on the Book of Genesis. 1907. 67a
- Hertz, H. Koenig René's Tochter; lyrisches Drama in einem Acte. 1872. 68g2
- Illustration théâtrale. nos. 85-91. Mar.-May, 1908. 1 v. 68f1
- Contents.*
85. Loti, P., pseud. Ramuntcho.
86. Bourget, P. C. J., and Cury, A. Un divorce.
87. Capus, A. Qui perd gagne.
88. Bataille, H. La femme nue.
89. Trarieux, G. L'alibi.
90. Brieux, E. Simone.
91. Guitry, S. Le scandale de Monte-Carlo.
- Koopman, H. L. At the gates of the century [and other poems.] 1905. 67a
- Molnar, F. The devil, adapted by Oliver Herford [c1908.] 68
- The play is receiving an attention quite out of proportion to its merit. Technically, it is well enough done, and shows the trained hand; it has, too, a certain novelty of conception. But it isn't good drama, good morals or good literature, and the best interests of the playhouse would be conserved if it could be estopped at once.—Bellman.
- Rehtz, A. Poesie des Weltalls; naturwissenschaftliche Gedichte. [Widmung, 1904.] 68g
- Smith, F. A. Critics versus Shakspeare; a brief for the defendant. 1907. 67d1
- Stopes, Mrs. C. C. Shakespeare's family; a record of the ancestors and descendants of William Shakespeare, with some acct. of the Ardens. 1901. 67d1

ENGLISH FICTION.

Class 69t

- Ade, G. Artie; a story of the streets and towns. 1906.
- Atherton, Mrs. G. F. (H.) The gorgeous isle. 1908.
- Bindloss, H. A damaged reputation. [c1908.] —Long odds. 1908.
- The hero of this tale is dismissed from colonial military service for a fancied offence, and becomes stranded in the wilderness of Portugese West Africa.
- He has not a little of the incisive power of Mr. Conrad in dealing with this tropical material.—W. M. Payne, in the Dial.
- Bronson, E. B. Reminiscences of a ranchman. 1908.
- Bružno, E. S. The tether. 1908.
- A subjective study of a Jewish boy's struggle for education, freedom, and the love of a Gentile maiden, while the inexorable prejudices and decrees of his race withhold them from him.—Bk. Rev. Digest.
- Calkins, F. W. My host the enemy, and other tales; sketches of life and adventure on the border line of the West. 1901.
- Craddock, C. E. pseud. Fair Mississippian. 1908.
- The hero of Miss Murfree's new story is a young man who having completed an elaborate course of study abroad is obliged to dismiss temporarily his dream of power on account of his father's death and shattered fortunes. He turns to pedagogical work and engages in preparing three Southern boys for college. The story is concerned with his life in this home on a cotton plantation, with his thrilling adventures with river pirates and floods, and with his romance in which a widow ten years his senior is the altogether charming heroine.—Bk. Rev. Digest.

Crowley, M. C. Heroine of the Strait; a romance of Detroit in the time of Pontiac. 1902.

Day, H. F. Squire Phin; a novel. 1905.

Dearmer, Mrs. M. The sisters. 1908.

Doyle, A. C. Round the fire stories. 1908.

Compact of adventure, crime and mystery. . . they possess skill, invention and literary touch.—Bellman.

Dyar, M. C. Davie and Elisabeth, wonderful adventures. 1908.

The simple happenings of a quaint, sweet-spirited, contented couple who try daily to make up to each other for their childless estate.—Bk. Rev. Digest.

Ellis, J. B. Arkinsaw cousins; a story of the Ozarks. 1908.

Striking among stories of its kind for its spontaneity, its zest born of affectionate intimacy with the subject. Consequently, though it is not without crudity of detail, the affair as a whole is unusually refreshing.—Nation.

Findlater, J. H. Ladder to the stars. 1906.

Fowler, E. T. Miss Fallowfield's fortune. 1908.

Freemantle, E. The one, and I. [1908.]

Gale, Z. Friendship Village. 1908.

Gallon, T. Cruise of the make-believes. 1907.

Garland, H. Shadow world. 1908.

Grahame, K. The wind in the willows. 1908.

The book, with its scenes of river, forest and field, and its whimsical incursions into the human world, forms an all but perfect blending of idyll and inconsequence.—Athenæum.

Worthy companion to "The Golden Age" and "Dream Days."—N. Y. Times.

Grimshaw, B. E. Vaiti of the islands. 1908.

Harraden, B. Interplay. [1908.]

Henry, A. An island cabin. 1902.

Henry, O., pseud. The gentle grafter. 1908.

Henry of Navarre; a romance of August, 1572. 1908.

Hooker, B. The right man. [1908.]

Howells, W. D., and others. Whole family. 1908.

Twelve authors have coöperated in producing this character-sketch novel. They are William Dean Howells, Mary E. Wilkins Freeman, Mary Heaton Vorse, Mary Stewart Cutting, Elizabeth Jordan, John Kendrick Bangs, Henry James, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Edith Wyatt, Mary R. S. Andrews, Alice Brown, and Henry Van Dyke.

Jerome, J. K. Passing of the third floor back. 1908.

Jordan, E. G. Many kingdoms. 1908.

King, Mrs. M. E. (H.) Bread and wine; a story of Graubunden. 1902.

Kinross, A. Joan of Garioch. 1908.

An intimate account of conditions in Russia after the war, and is unique for portraying a heroine who does not appear.—Bk. Rev. Digest.

Knowles, R. E. Web of time. [c1908.]

Lancaster, G. B. The altar stairs. 1908.

Leroux, J. Mystery of the yellow room; extraordinary adventures of Joseph Rouletabille, reporter. 1908.

For sheer originality and ingenuity we reckon this the best detective story published for some time.—Nation.

Lucas, E. V. Over Bemerton's; an easy-going chronicle. 1908.

It has a certain quaintness of treatment and mild humor which make it an attractive book.—Bellman.

Lynde, F. A fool for love. [1905.]

Mallock, W. H. An immortal soul; a novel. 1908.

A fine piece of irony.—Athenæum.

Mason, Mrs. C. (A.) Binding of the strong; a love story. [c1908.]

It is a familiar figure that is presented as the hero of this little romance—the calm, lofty Milton of the Sonnets—not exactly intimate or near, but admirable, unworldly, great. . . . The scenes are often charming, though sketchy, one would have been glad to see more of the hero. It is a pleasing and happy story.—N. Y. Times.

Mayne, J. D. Triumph of socialism and how it succeeded. 1908.

Megargel, P. F., and Mason, G. S. The car and the lady. 1908.

One of the best of the numerous motor stories.

Mitchell, S. W. The red city; a novel of the second administration of President Washington. 1908.

Ollivant, A. The gentleman; a romance of the sea. 1908.

It is all very spirited, very sanguinary and at times even brutal, and yet the scenes of slaughter are relieved by charming touches of sentiment which are never sentimental and by dramatic incidents which are never melodramatic.—Bellman.

Oppenheim, E. P. The long arm of Manhattan. 1908.

Palmer, F. The big fellow. 1908.

The portrayal of a splendid type of American. The story shows many parallels with incidents in the career of Mr. Taft. "The big fellow is a genial, indefatigable, big-hearted, clear-headed giant. He begins his career on leaving college by working in a pick-and-shovel gang, becomes a lawyer and a judge, and is finally made governor of one of the islands in our Far Eastern possessions. His experiences there illustrate the difficulties of the task we undertook when we accepted the Philippines."—Outlook.

Partridge, A. The distributors. 1908.

Phillpotts, E. Virgin in judgment. 1908.

Contains a dozen capital portraits of rural men and women, dwellers on Dartmoor some half-century ago.—Saturday Review.

Phillpotts, E., and Bennett, E. A. Doubletons. 1906.

Pyle, H. The ruby of Kishmoor. 1908.

Rinehart, M. R. Circular staircase. [1908.]

Written in the delightfully humorous vein which makes it stand out so much above the ordinary detective story, it is bound to be, with more than usual deserts, a popular success.—N. Y. Times.

Schwartz, J. A. Vassar studies. 1899. (Univ. series.)

Sedgwick, A. D. Amabel Channice. 1908.

Senior, D. The clutch of circumstances; or, The gates of dawn. 1908.

Silberrad, U. L. Desire. 1908.

Sutcliffe, H. A Benedick in Arcady. 1906.

Thomas, A. Witching hour. 1908.

Mr. Thomas has novelized his own play, insuring no loss of the drama's interest that was due to telepathy, mental suggestion and hypnotism.—Bk. Rev. Digest.

Thorne, G. D. The angel. [c1908.]

Wells, H. G. The war in the air. 1908.

Synchronizes in a happy manner with the increasing interest in aeronautics. . . . His imagination is as high as his invention, and both are well known and esteemed.—Athenæum.

Weale, B. L. P., pseud. The forbidden boundary; and other stories. 1908.

Woodrow, Mrs. N. M. (W.) The silver butterfly. [1908.]

ABRAHAM LINCOLN,

AND THE PROPOSED LINCOLN MEMORIAL.

February 12, 1809-1909.

"Appius Claudius was one of Rome's greatest generals; but how many now living can even name one of his victories? He was a very wise ruler; but how many now living can recount his civil achievements. He was one of Rome's foremost writers; but how many now living have ever read one of his many books? All these things gave him temporary fame, but all failed to give him permanent fame. But he built a great highway, and who has not heard of the Appian Way?

While riding along the Appian Way the writer remembered a suggestion that he had heard but had not heeded much, that a great highway would be the most suitable memorial to Lincoln. . . .

From the White House to Gettysburg Abraham Lincoln journeyed to deliver a speech which will be recited by school boys a thousand years from now, and which will stand as a classic as long as the English language is spoken. A broad and splendid highway, the best in the world, from the grounds of the White House to the battlefield of Gettysburg, to be called "The Lincoln Road" or "The Lincoln Way", will, in the judgment of the writer, stand the test as the most appropriate memorial that could be constructed to show our respect and affection for Abraham Lincoln.

Gettysburg is itself a memorial, eloquent of things done and of things said. Here was fought the most important battle of the greatest of wars. Here was exhibited valor unsurpassed in the annals of military prowess. The men who wore the blue and the men who wore the gray, their descendants and their countrymen, can all properly exult as Americans in the valiant deeds that were here performed. Here, too, was pronounced Lincoln's matchless speech, which "crystalized the spirit of the Republic into a paragraph." . . .

Though money has . . . been generously expended in beautifying the battlefield of Gettysburg and in suitably marking its scenes of heroic deeds, it is so inaccessible that comparatively few people are able to visit it. Of all the hosts of travelers of this and other countries who visit Washington every year, not one in ten thousand ever gets to Gettysburg, though nearly all of them would like to visit this historic field.

Gettysburg lies almost due north of Washington and about seventy-two miles away, as the road would run. What a fitting memorial to Lincoln would be a noble highway, a splendid boulevard, from the White House to Gettysburg, from the house where his record for statesmanship was achieved to the spot where he struck the highest note of human eloquence! The seventy-two miles would give sufficient length to the highway to justify its use as a national memorial. . . .

Down the middle of the road let there be a greensward forty or fifty feet wide, a well kept lawn looking like a beautiful green carpet of velvet. To lend variety to this central line of beauty, here and there flower gardens and other decorative features could be introduced. At intervals could be erected fountains and other monumental embellishments that might be appropriate.

On each side of this central line of beauty let there be a smooth roadway forty or fifty feet wide, constructed according to the highest engineering standard of "good roads". One of these roadways may be reserved for swift-moving vehicles like automobiles, and the other for slow-moving vehicles like carriages and wagons.

Outside of these driveways could be double-tracked electric railways, occupying a width of twenty feet each and separated from the driveways by hedges. One of these railways could be for express trains of high speed and stopping only at intervals of ten or fifteen miles; the other could be for local trains moving slowly and stopping at short intervals.

Bordering "The Lincoln Road" on each side there should be a row or rows of stately trees, the rows broken at points where could be obtained fine views of mountain or valley or river."—From "What shall the Lincoln Memorial be?" by James T. McCleary in the September, 1908, Review of Reviews.
